10 RICHARD ROY SCOTT,

11 Plaintiff,

12 v.

13 VAN HOOK,

14 Defendant.

CASE NO. 3:16-CV-05785-RBL-DWC

ORDER STAYING THE CASE

15 The District Court referred this 42 U.S.C. § 1983 action to United States Magistrate 16 Judge David W. Christel. In the Complaint, Plaintiff Richard Roy Scott alleges, in part, his 17 constitutional rights are being violated because he is forced to drink contaminated water at the 18 Special Commitment Center (“SCC”). Dkt. 3. The Court has reviewed Plaintiff’s case and 19 determined this case shall be stayed in the interests of justice and judicial economy and 20 efficiency. Plaintiff’s pending Motions (Dkt. 45, 49, 50) are denied without prejudice.

21 “A district court has discretionary power to stay proceedings in its own court under 22 Landis v. North American Co.” Lockyer v. Mirant Corp., 398 F.3d 1098, 1109 (9th Cir. 2005)
23 (citing Landis v. North American Co., 299 U.S. 248, 254 (1936)); Ali v. Trump, 2017 WL
24

1 1057645, at *3 (W.D. Wash. Mar. 17, 2017) (“Courts have the power to consider stays sua
2 sponte.”). “The power to stay a case is ‘incidental to the power inherent in every court to control
3 the disposition of the causes on its docket with economy of time and effort for itself, for counsel,
4 and for litigants.’” Halliwell v. A-T Sols., 2014 WL 4472724, at *7 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 10, 2014)
5 (quoting Landis, 299 U.S. at 254). The Ninth Circuit has held:

6 A trial court may, with propriety, find it is efficient for its own docket and the 7 fairest course for the parties to enter a stay of an action before it, pending
8 resolution of independent proceedings which bear upon the case. This rule applies 9 whether the separate proceedings are judicial, administrative, or arbitral in 10 character, and does not require that the issues in such proceedings are necessarily 11 controlling of the action before the court. In such cases the court may order a stay 12 of the action pursuant to its power to control its docket and calendar and to 13 provide for a just determination of the cases pending before it.

14 Leyva v. Certified Grocers of California, Ltd., 593 F.2d 857, 863–64 (9th Cir. 1979) (internal 15 citations omitted).

16 To determine if a stay is appropriate, the Court should weigh the “competing interests
17 which will be effected by the granting or refusal to grant a stay,” including “the possible damage
18 which may result from the granting of a stay, the hardship or inequity which a party may suffer 19 in being required to go forward, and the orderly course of justice measured in terms of the 20 simplifying or complicating of issues, proof, and questions of law which could be expected to 21 result from a stay.” See Lockyer, 398 F.3d at 1110 (quoting CMAX, Inc. v. Hall, 300 F.2d 265, 22 268 (9th Cir. 1962)).

23 The Court finds the interests of justice and judicial efficiency and economy warrant a stay 24 in this case. In this Court, the claims of approximately 200 Plaintiffs alleging constitutional violations arising from the potable water at the SCC have been consolidated in a related case. See Malone v. Strong, 3:16-cv-5284-RBL-DWC (“Related Case”). An answer has not been filed in Malone and, therefore, a scheduling order has not been entered and discovery has not begun. In

1 the current case, a scheduling order has been entered and the discovery period is open. See Dkt.
2 21. The Related Case and the current case, which are similar in law and fact, are at different
3 procedural postures, which may impact over 200 Plaintiffs. Further, Plaintiff has case
4 management orders which restrict his ability to conduct discovery. If the Court stays Plaintiff's
5 case pending the filing of a scheduling order in the Related Case, discovery can be addressed
6 efficiently and economically for all claims arising from the potable water at the SCC. The Court
7 can also direct that Plaintiff receive the necessary discovery without burdening the litigants or 8 the Court.

9 For the above stated reasons, this entire matter is stayed pending further order from this 10 Court. The Court anticipates the stay will be lifted when a pretrial scheduling order is entered in 11 the Related Case. Motions will not be considered by the Court during the stay. Plaintiff's 12 pending Motions (45, 49, 50), which relate to discovery, are denied without prejudice.

13 Dated this 9th day of May, 2017.
